

SURREY DIRECTOR

2nd December 2008

SAFE DATA STORAGE

RAMSAC, the IT solutions consultancy based in Godalming, has announced the launch of its tape-based off-site back-up service – ramsac collect.

Storing data offsite is an important precautionary measure to ensure an organisation can remain operational should, for example, a power shortage, flooding or fire compromise a place of work. With ramsac collect, all relevant data tapes are highly encrypted and routinely retrieved by its secure collection service, then stored at a state of the art 'safe farm'.

Ramsac connect is available to all organisations throughout the UK. The new service ensures data that is critical to the running of the organisation is immediately checked in to the system, logged and securely archived upon arrival at the safe farm.

Should the data be required, ramsac delivers the encrypted data to any designated location in the UK, where it can be reinstated to ensure business as usual.

Subscribers will benefit from an initial audit of the organisation's data back-up strategy and an IT continuity plan.