

Our cybersecurity and social media checklist

As an employer, here's some simple steps you can take to keep your company secure on social media:

Social media accounts

- 1 Have you checked your lesser used social media accounts are secure?
- 2 Have you listed your official social media accounts on your website?
- 3 Who is in charge of your social media accounts? And when did they last change the password?
- 4 Is 2FA turned on?

Employee social medias

- 1 Are your employees sharing confidential information online?
- 2 Have you recently reminded employees on your use of social media policy?
- 3 Have you shared with your employees a list of senior directors and what social media accounts they use?
- 4 Do you operate a clear desk policy, and if so, do you enforce it?

Keeping up to date

- 1 Are you aware of the latest social media trends?
- 2 Do you have a trusted advisor in the business who can share the latest trends with you, and can provide updates to staff on how it could impact business confidentiality?
- 3 How do you communicate warnings on the latest trends that could impact confidentiality to your employees?
